Dear Coordinators ,

I am to inform you that Asia e University -India will be introducing Non -Semester pattern of study from the Academic year July 2011 for all courses. This change will help the students and Learning Centres through flexibility in Admissions and gaining more study period for the conduct of Seminar classes in the respective Learning Centres. The operation of the Non-Semester pattern will be like any other Universities and it will be as follows.

Admission	Period of Admission	Personal Contact Programme	Examination
Academic Year	Admission starts from July and ends by November of a Year	Between December and April	In May
Calendar Year	Admission starts from January and ends by June	Between July and November	In December

Dual admission in a year will continue but the mode of operation will be Non-Semester.

Supplementary Examinations:

The main examination for Academic year will be in May and the supplementary in December. The Main examination for Calendar year will be in December and the supplementary in May of a year. The current students continue to stay in the Semester pattern of study till they complete the course. This notification shall be brought to the notice of all students of Asia e University-India .For clarification if any, refer to Asia e University -India website or contact the office.
